CHINESE AND SOVIET TROOPS ARE FIGHTING

North-South B.C. Road Plan Before Federal Ministers

Hon. Charles Stewart Is Told by Premier Talmie of New Plan to Develop Great Area and Draw Increased Tourist Travel From U.S.; Would Link Up With Alaska.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—At the conclusion of a conference here to-day between Premier S. F. Talmie of British Columbia and Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, on the proposal to build a high-way from the United States boundary through British Columbia to the Yukon, Premier Talmie explained the discussion was of a preliminary nature. He has laid the general scheme before Mr. Stewart.

It would be necessary to have some kind of a survey made to ascertain the feasibility of the proposal. Aerial surveys might be employed to get an impression of the country to be traversed.

About 400 miles of the road would be in British Columbia and 125 miles in the Yukon. There is a suggestion the Federal Government build the Yukon portion, but nothing was decided as to what assistance if any the Dominion would give to help British Columbia build her portion. Premier Talmie is understood to have impressed upon Mr. Stewart that it would be a very heavy load on the Pacific Coast province if it had to bear the whole cost.

TO INCREASE TOURIST TRAVEL

The road would connect up at the international border with a road running south to Mexico. If the project should go through it would enable people from the United States to travel to Alaska by motor.

"We can not tell what such a road will cost until we have a much better knowledge of what kind of country the road would traverse," said Premier Talmie. He added that it was proposed to build it some distance back from the coast, going through Hazelton.

He intimated the two governments would give further consideration to the project and decide on steps to get data necessary to arrive at a definite decision concerning it.

CITY ACTION ON SEAPLANE BASE NOW PENDING

F. M. Preston Lays Tentative Plan for Proposed Base Before Aldermen

Public Airport Is Chief Item of Business to Go Before Council This Evening

The results of a survey at the site of the proposed public seaplane base authorized by the civil aviation authorities, and a tentative plan of the hangar, floats and facilities that would be required at the site, were submitted to the industrial committee of the City Council in special meeting this afternoon, by F. M. Preston, City Engineer.

The committee received details of the measurements taken at the site, on city-owned land at the foot of Dallas Road and Erie Street, just east of the old Chemical Works wharf, where the corporation owns 240 feet of waterfront with a considerable depth. The erection of a hangar, float and slipway at this site, with proper facilities for the accommodation and refueling and repairing of aircraft has been suggested to the city in communications from Squadron Leader J. L. McLeod, of the B.C. Air Station, at Jericho Beach.

Prairie Citizens Ask Veregin Be Deported

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—Telegrams from the people of Kamask, Sask., asking that Peter Veregin, head of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, more commonly known as Doukhobors, be deported have evidently gone direct to Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, who is now in Manitoba.

No record of their having been received by the department here could be found.

Over a week ago more than 100 members of the Sons of Freedom, an organization within the community, were arrested for appearing nude in a parade at South Sloon, B.C. The result of the demonstration was that 103 of them were sentenced a couple of days ago at Nelson, B.C., to six months in jail for indecent exposure. Meanwhile there was a clash between Doukhobors and mounted police near Kamask when the Doukhobors started a parade.

NOT FIRST REQUEST

Officials of the Department of Immigration here decline to discuss the situation in the absence of the Minister, but it is known this is not the first time a request has been made that Peter Veregin be deported. He was in Russia when his father ruled the destinies of the community and came out after his father had been killed in a train wreck. He is understood to have suffered greatly in Russia, but his troubles there were political and in no way could be held as a bar to his coming into Canada.

BRITISH FLIERS TO TRY FOR NEW WORLD SPEED RECORDS

Calshot, Eng., Sept. 9.—British planes which set a new world record for speed in the Schneider Cup Race last Saturday will make a fresh assault on all speed records to-morrow.

Flying Officer R. L. Atcherley, although he was disqualified in the race Saturday, attained a speed of 332.49 miles an hour, well over the previous record of 318.43 set by Major Mario De Bernardi last year.

Old marks must be exceeded by five miles an hour to be allowed as a new speed record.

The attempt to-morrow will be over a three-kilometre course (slightly less than two miles). Squadron Leader A. H. Ortelair is expected to make the first attempt with the Super-Marine seaplane in which Flying Officer H. R. D. Waggoner Saturday won the race with an average of 328.63 miles an hour. Flight Lieutenant G. H. Stainforth will make a test flight in a Gloster Gladiator which could not be got ready in time for the race.

CHILDREN AT LAKE PERFORM HEROIC RESCUE

Sixteen-year-old Violet Brooks Saved From Drowning at Elk Lake

Visitor to Kemp Lake Also Narrowly Escapes Watery Grave in Accident

A display of youthful heroism in a critical moment thrilled a large crowd of picknickers at the Elk Lake Athletic Association grounds yesterday afternoon when sixteen-year-old Violet Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dibb, 1729 Sixth Street, set into difficulties while swimming.

Although usually a fairly strong swimmer, Violet was attacked with a cramp when some distance from shore. She shouted for help. Her thirteen-year-old brother, Clarence, went to her rescue with another lad and endeavored to bring the unfortunate girl to shore. DRAGGED UNDER

In her desperate efforts to save herself, the drowning girl dragged her brother and another lad under the surface twice when they reached her, and continued her struggles when they attempted to keep her afloat.

The parents of the struggling children at first thought they were playing and were amused at their antics. The seriousness of the situation dawned upon those on shore, however, when someone shouted the girl was drowning.

WITH INNER TUBE

Violet Brooks, fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Brooks, 1488 Lang Street, proved the heroine of the incident, when she swam out to the exhausted swimmers with a blown-up inner tube.

WASHINGTON FIRES TOTAL 20,000 ACRES

Seattle, Aug. 9.—With fires raging over 20,000 acres, western Washington's forest fire situation to-day was described as "extremely serious" by forestry officials, who reported the number of major conflagrations had been doubled since early yesterday. Eight devastating fires were leaving smoldering ruins in their paths.

Hood Canal was the latest sector to be invaded by the fire demon, a 300-acre blaze being reported last night at the mouth of the Duckabush River, where 135 men were rushed from Seattle to battle the flames, while Clark County, on the Columbia River, reported a 14,000-acre fire raging uncontrollably.

Challam County was the scene of a 180-acre fire which burned a million feet of logs and destroyed equipment on the Merrill-King Logging Company's property.

MAN INJURED

District Fire Warden Fred Fraser was reported seriously injured while fighting flames that were eating over 700 acres of forest at South Fork, Pierce County.

The Sunset Lumber Company at Sultco, Pacific County, reported damage of 4,000,000 feet of felled timber when 1,500 acres in Pacific County were burned over.

NEW MOVE FOR B.C. RAIL OUTLET FOR PEACE RIVER

Edmonton, Sept. 9.—British Columbia delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce here are convinced members of their Legislature need only see the Peace River country to press for immediate construction of a British Columbia coast outlet. During a few hours' halt last night on their way to Jasper Park they held a meeting in Edmonton at which a resolution was passed urging that the Legislature go to that district en masse while the harvest is still being gathered. The resolution will be presented at a meeting of five of those present at the meeting who will go to Victoria as soon as they return to the coast following the convention sessions this week in Edmonton.

FOUR COUGARS, SHOT AT SOOKE, ATTRACT MANY

Victoria Hunters Track Wild Cats Over Week-end

Isaac Smith, His Son Isaac, James Farmer and Dog Set Local Record

Five cougars were slain at Sooke Lake last week by Isaac Smith of 2923 Blanshard Street and his son, Isaac, and James Farmer of Mars Street, patrolman of the Sooke Lake watershed. The hunters are believed by Game Warden Oidley to have destroyed an entire family of the big cats. Credit for the achievement is assigned by the hunters to the brilliant work of Brewer's small dog "Mickey."

Crowds gathered around the Smith car and its week-end burden of four animals, when it was parked this morning outside The Times Building. Isaac Smith Sr. is a woodsman of twenty years' experience, and last Tuesday when examining the district near Farmer's patrol headquarters shack with a view to its hunting possibilities, he found remains of six deer killed by cougars. A short hunt by the dog freed a young cougar, which was shot by Smith.

HUNT RESUMED

On Saturday afternoon, accompanied by Isaac Smith Jr., Mr. Smith went to Sooke to resume the hunt for the remainder of the cougar family. Signs of deer killed having been located, the dog tracked a young cougar in a wind-fall and his barking freed the cougar and enabled Brewer to get a good chance with his buckshot.

The second big cat, the mature female, was treed some hours later after a long run. Six shots with a rifle were required to bring the animal to earth, and a seventh bullet was required to slay her after she fell.

GET WELL-FED MALE

Having camped for the night at Brewer's shack the party resumed the hunt yesterday morning at daybreak, and at 8 o'clock young Smith shot a big male, newly fed, which took to a tree when the little dog barked vigorously.

P. F. CURTIS IS SCHOOL TRUSTEE IN OAK BAY NOW

Percy Falconer Curtis of 1600 Prospect Place, Oak Bay, was elected by acclamation to-day to fill the balance of the school trustees term of R. R. Reid, who resigned recently on appointment as supervisor of construction of the new Oak Bay High School. Mr. Curtis was nominated by G. C. Howell and seconded by Gordon A. Cameron. His election was unopposed when R. R. Blandy, municipal clerk and returning officer, closed the nominations at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The return by acclamation was proclaimed forthwith. Mr. Curtis has served several terms in municipal office before and his election by acclamation dispenses with the necessity for a poll.

FOUR INJURED IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

Cars Collide in City, Bus Is Ditched and Sedan Goes Off Malahat

New York Delegate to I.T.U. Shaken Off Bus; Family Hurt in Crash

Four persons sustained injuries and a number of others flitted closely with death in several traffic accidents over the week-end.

Those injured were: Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Marchant and son, Michael, of Tinto Street, face cuts and bruises.

David McNeill, New York, bruises and shock.

A car driven by Mr. Marchant was in collision with another vehicle driven by A. Hemsworth, 2640 Cook Street, at the intersection of Pembroke and Cook Streets yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Marchant and Michael, as well as Peter, another son, who suffered from shock, were taken home in the police patrol. The car was badly damaged.

According to the report made to the police, Mr. Marchant was driving west on Pembroke and Mr. Hemsworth south on Cook Street at the time of the accident.

THROWN FROM BUS

Thrown from a sightseeing car yesterday afternoon on the West Saanich Road, a delegate to the International Typographical Union, was taken to the Royal Jubilee Hospital where his injuries were found limited to bruises and shock. He was able to return to Seattle with the convention excursion last night.

The accident happened when the driver of the sightseeing car turned his car into the roadside ditch to avoid a collision with two automobiles in trouble near Keating Cross Road.

Mr. McNeill was the only one injured, although the bus was crowded at the time.

Three youths, riding in a "drive yourself" sedan car, narrowly escaped death when the vehicle went off the Malahat Drive yesterday and turned over three times before coming to rest at the bottom of a slope. Although badly shaken and suffering a few minor bruises, the boys were otherwise unhurt. The top of the car was crushed.

MANY ASK OTTAWA FOR TICKETS TO CHURCHILL

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The lure of the north is strong in the hearts of Canadians. Anyone doubting this should see the correspondence pouring in on the Department of Railways and Canals asking to be allowed to go to Churchill. The flood of requests started when a news item announced it might be possible trains would be running to that Hudson Bay port over the new railway by the end of this month.

It is rather embarrassing to the department because at present the only buildings at Churchill are those housing the men engaged on the dredging and the railway construction. The only food supplies there are those belonging to the Government.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, to-day announced his department was preparing a statement which would be published soon, explaining the whole situation there.

SHANGHAI, SEPT. 9.—The official Kuomin Agency of the Nationalist Government to-night stated the heaviest fighting yet reported in the Manchurian dispute between Russia and China was going on between Russian and Chinese troops along the "entire Manchurian-Siberian frontier."

Shanghai, Sept. 9.—The official Kuomin News Agency of the Nationalist Government to-night reported that "in anticipation of a general Russian offensive, Chinese reinforcements are now rushing northward from Mukden to both the Manchurian and Pogranichnaya fronts."

Tokio, Sept. 9.—Japanese reports here to-day said Russian artillery fire was being directed against Pogranichnaya, and the entire town was aflame.

TRAIN DESTROYED

Shanghai, Sept. 9.—A Marlin dispatch timed early this afternoon and received to-night, said a passenger train on the Chinese Eastern Railway had been blown up on Saturday, the tracks having been mined with high explosives. The train was bound from Pogranichnaya to Harbin.

According to the report, two persons were killed and three injured when the locomotive was blown off the track; the baggage car destroyed and the first and second class cars telegraphed.

AT BOTH ENDS

Tokio, Sept. 9.—Renewed and more serious fighting at both the eastern and western termini of the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria were reported to-day by Rengo, Japanese news agency, in dispatches from Harbin, Manchurian railway centre.

PLANE WRECK TELLS STORY OF DISASTER

Eight Charred Bodies Carried From Mountain to Grant, N.M., For Burial

Grant, N.M., Sept. 9 (By Associated Press Staff Writer, Eyewitness at T.A.T. plane wreckage).—Funeral arrangements to-day were marking the final chapter in a story of eight lives snuffed out in the crash of a great air liner against a mountain as a pilot battled blindly for a haven of safety against a storm.

With five passengers, one a woman, and a crew of three dead, their lips forever sealed, the cause of the crash of the City of San Francisco a Transcontinental Air Transport plane on Mount Taylor, thirty miles from here, may never be known. A searching party of fifty men, including an Associated Press correspondent, was led by Sheriff Bob Roberts up precipitous sides of Mount Taylor, which thrusts its jagged peak nearly 12,000 feet into the sky that was once the lane of the "Missouri of the Air." In a little canyon heavily wooded with giant pine trees the party of fifty suddenly came yesterday on the scene where charred wreckage marked the final resting place of the large tri-motored aircraft.

Over a race of 150 yards the plane was strewn in bits, the largest piece being a wing section about ten feet long. Three motors roared their challenge to the elements when the City of San Francisco left Albuquerque, N.M., last

The Calgary Blacks emerged victorious after a hard struggle against the Calgary Terriers in the final game of the secondary series. They were forced to play two extra chukkers. The scores were indicative of the close nature of play in both cases, that of the first game being 6-5 in favor of Virginia Ranch, that of the second 5-4 in favor of the Calgary Blacks.

CAPITALS ARE BADLY BEATEN

Suffer 21-0 Defeat at Hands of Squamish Indians in B.C. Baseball Final

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—Squamish Indians won the Senior "B" baseball championship of the Province when they turned back the Victoria Capitals with ridiculous ease at Athletic Park Saturday evening in a sudden death game for the title.

The score was 21-0 and it might have been greater had the Indians cared to take the affair more seriously. The North Shore boys got twelve runs in the first three frames and after that it was more or less of a joke.

The visitors could not hit Willie Gallagher, and couldn't field, and were badly beaten baseball outfits when Fred Inch took pity on the crowd and called off hostilities at the seventh.

The Mainland boys collected sixteen hits off Danglefield and Forbes, and ran wild on the bases.

HEAT WAVE IN BRITISH ISLES

People Suffer During Unusual September Weather; Water Shortage

London, Sept. 8.—The unusual heat which has scorched the British Isles for the last few days continued unabated to-day. A temperature of 88 degrees Fahrenheit was recorded over a large part of England Sunday, driving thousands from town to country and seashore. There is little relief was to be obtained.

More than 250,000 people crowded Thirlwall Park, Liverpool, Sunday to attend a pontifical Mass celebration. The park was so packed the majority could not kneel. The heat was intense and the sun was merciless. Many submitted to ministrations of nurses and ambulances after prostration and fainting attacks.

Hyde Park, London, due to the ban on sprinkling as a consequence of the shortage of water, has become a dust track. Complaints of passerby who were nearly choked with the clouds of dust raised by the horses necessitated the prohibition of driving.

News from Chile indicates that that country will abolish capital punishment, thereby becoming the twenty-fifth nation in the world to do so.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—Problems of world trade expansion through greater production, industry and commerce will be discussed at the seventh convention of the Pacific Far East Trade Council in Seattle September 18 and 19. A. F. Haines, former San Francisco shipping man and vice-president of the council, announced here yesterday.

The motorship Villager, first of the five new motorships being built for the West Coast, is en route to Los Angeles from Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. R. S. Winterhouse, manager of the General Steamship Corporation, local agent, announced yesterday. The Villager is due at Los Angeles September 22.

Pacific Coast shipping men and port officials will attend the annual convention of the American Association of Port Authorities in Quebec, Canada, from September 23 to 26. Tiler S. McChesney, secretary of the association, said that among papers to be presented at the meeting will be one on uniform port practice by George F. Nicholson, harbor engineer of Los Angeles.

WITH war as a background, ancient Greece emerges in history as the home of intellect and culture. Cultivation of philosophy and science was mingled with a love of beauty and of the arts.

Among people of such creative genius it is but natural to find the need for insurance protection being met. Not in the manner of today, it is true, but still we learn that during periods of invasion and warfare, Military Societies and Civilian Guilds provided for the burial and for the dependents of their members, while the family of a sailor lost at sea was cared for through the generosity of the Grecian trader.

Modern Life Insurance as provided by The Dominion Life Assurance Company is a demonstration of what this impregnable institution means in the lives of people to-day. COLONIZATION SCHEMES NEED CAREFUL STUDY

C.P.R. President Expresses Opinion on British Government's Peace River Plans

Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—The British Government should go very slowly with extensive colonization plans in the Peace River area, believes E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. He expressed his opinion when asked last night if there was anything in the suggestion made in some quarters that the British Government might try to interest British people in settling in-bloc in the Peace River district of Alberta and British Columbia.

"It would be far better to confine the community settlement idea to small communities," stated Mr. Beatty. "In any case, the Peace River district is filling up rapidly."

Earlier in the evening Mr. Beatty had conferred for an hour with Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal of Great Britain and Minister of Employment. Both declined to comment on the situation, but it is understood Mr. Thomas pressed his claim that the Canadian railways should do all possible to place contracts in Great Britain. Empire settlement and the employment situation in Britain, no doubt, were discussed.

Mr. Thomas immediately left for Ottawa.

"Providing Welsh coal can be bought at prices laid down in Canada that compare favorably with the price of United States coal, the Canadian Pacific Railway would be disposed to place contracts for it," stated Mr. Beatty in an interview following his conference with Mr. Thomas.

Welsh coal, however, cannot be used in any way Canadian coal, which large quantities are being purchased in Nova Scotia and the west.

PEACE RIVER'S GAINS SURPRISE TOURIST PARTY

Jasper, Alta., Sept. 9.—After having stood at the junction of the mighty Peace River and a Smoky River, having seen wheat in profusion growing in a district as far north as Hudson Bay and the northern portion of Labrador, the touring Canadian Chamber of Commerce party is here to-day after its pilgrimage to the Peace River district, thoroughly convinced of the productivity and possibilities of that great country.

Not that the travelers saw the whole territory. They reached a point some fifteen miles north of the Peace River and were informed they could go no further before they would reach the limit of the grain country.

The party, including the British Columbia coast delegates as well as the many from eastern Canada, totaling 300, arrived back in Edmonton Saturday night and traveled west to spend two days in Jasper National Park prior to assembling in Edmonton Wednesday for the Chamber's annual convention.

Sixty thousand settlers and townspeople living in a district estimated by the Government of Alberta to contain 47,000,000 acres of arable land—such is brief is the Peace River district. Much of the land is awaiting clearance and judging by the fact that of the 60,000 present living there, half moved in during the last four years, much of it will be cleared in the near future.

Speeches given in the visitors' honor told that under the soil was still more wealth. Seventeen tons of coal in the district had shown it to be three per cent better than the best Pennsylvania anthracite, Charles Fredericks, Grande Prairie newspaperman, told the delegation. A flame ten feet high burning over a gas well at Peace River bore testimony to the natural gas available. There was power equal to that produced at Niagara Falls available at Hudson's Hope, 200 miles north of the town of Peace River, he said. The greatest spruce stand in Canada was located in the district.

The needs of the Peace River district were summed up by Mr. Fredericks as freer access to the world markets by way of a British Columbia coast outlet, new branch lines through the territory and more representation in both the Dominion and Provincial Governments.

AT POUCE COUPE

(Special to The Times)

Pouce Coupe, Sept. 9.—Among the members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and visitors who visited Pouce Coupe were: W. M. Birks, president; J. A. Paulsen, second vice-president; Mayor Malkin, of Vancouver; C. Woodward, B. J. Cromie, of the Vancouver Sun, and A. E. Jukes, of Vancouver; The Earl of Strathford; Rt. Hon. George Lambert, a member of the British Parliament; Charles H. Luke, of the staff of The London Times; Evan Morgan; W. G. Watson, general manager of the Toronto General Trusts; Floyd S. Chalmers, editor of The Financial Post, Toronto; M. D. Hamilton, superintendent of the Pacific Coast branches of the Canadian Bank of Commerce; S. P. Patterson, assistant general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia; M. D. Hamilton, coast superintendent of Bank of Commerce; Pat Burns and N. R. Christie, of Calgary.

GIVEN WELCOME

The visitors were met at the British Columbia boundary by Mr. Galbraith, president of the Pouce Coupe Chamber of Commerce and manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch; Messrs. Hart Haskins, Lou Bladen and Dr. Watson. The British Columbia members stopped and cheered the welcome. Dr. Watson, however, a new chapter of general disarmament should be opened. The League needs some tangible progress toward the growth of general disarmament rather than the stagnations which had prevailed in the last few years.

"In preventing the eventually of war," Dr. Watson declared, "let us make prevention sure by general disarmament."

On representations of Canada and Germany, real progress had been made in improving the procedure for dealing with petitions from minorities. He

STRESEMANN DECLARES FOR DISARMAMENT

German Leader Tells League
His Country Fully Supports Arbitration

Geneva, Sept. 9.—(By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—Germany to-day took a stand for arbitration and disarmament before the Assembly of the League of Nations. Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Foreign Secretary, described the British and French decision to sign the optional clause of the statutes of the World Court as "the victorious progress of the ideas of arbitration."

Turning to the reference by Premier Aristide Briand of France to gaps in the work of the League in which M. Briand had asked what the League would do if some member should go beyond the covenant and declare war, the German delegate said: "You can not defeat war with war. You can defeat it only by suppressing the causes of war."

FEDERESS DESIGNED

Instead of talking about the application of new sanctions to preserve peace, Dr. Stresemann believed a new chapter of general disarmament should be opened. The League needs some tangible progress toward the growth of general disarmament rather than the stagnations which had prevailed in the last few years.

"In preventing the eventually of war," Dr. Stresemann declared, "let us make prevention sure by general disarmament."

On representations of Canada and Germany, real progress had been made in improving the procedure for dealing with petitions from minorities. He felt, however, that the League's guarantee to minorities should be made more effective.

It was not enough for the League to confine itself to petitions from disaffected minorities, he said. There should be a constant supervision of minority rights through a permanent commission as in the case of mandates commissions.

PLANS FOR NEW UNITY IN EUROPE ARE SUPPORTED

Leaders Agree With Briand's
Proposal For Old World
Nations

Geneva, Sept. 9.—Leaders of European states, meeting after luncheon under the chairmanship of Premier Briand of France, this afternoon decided it was wise to create ties of solidarity among themselves such as might be described as a European Confederation or "United States of Europe."

STATEMENT OF STRESEMANN

Geneva, Sept. 9.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Foreign Minister, in a speech before the Assembly of the League of Nations to-day came out in support of Premier Briand's project for a "United States of Europe."

Dr. Stresemann, however, made clear his support was contingent upon such an organization's being in no manner directed against the United States of America. He declared his belief the confederation should be economic in character and not political.

But even an economic union was resisted by him with his comment: "I am against creating an economic oligarchy in Europe."

Making what was interpreted as an allusion to the United States of America, he added with vigor: "I do not believe in forming a group which would be directed against any other group."

Tuesday at 10:23 a.m. for Los Angeles, were shattered and strung along a patch cut by the plane as its journey was so suddenly and disastrously ended.

METAL MELTED

What was once the luxurious cabin of the plane lay before the searchers a mass of melted and twisted metal, and within were the pitifully broken bodies of the passengers and crew, burned beyond recognition.

On one arm of one of the pilots there was a wrist watch a single telling remnant of the wreckage. It hands were stopped at 11:01.

Sheriff Roberts examined a watch of one of the passengers. It showed 11:04. It was grim but certain proof the plane was winging its way on time, westward on its correct course to the next stop when tragedy intervened.

CUT OFF TREES

The great sky liner skimmed close to the tree tops and its under carriage slashed off the top of one tall pine. A few feet farther the left wing motor chisled off a fifty foot section of a pine as if the tree had been a reed. From then on for a distance of more than 100 yards the ship carved a veritable runway in the heavily wooded canyon. As it carried its way through the pines it caught fire and left in its wake a perfectly marked trail of charred trees.

Finally it came to earth as the forward motor crashed into the lava-studded bed of the canyon the force was so great that the nine cylinders of the big motor were literally torn from their supports and hurled back into the fuselage.

The bodies were brought here yesterday.

The wreckage of the plane lay seven miles from the summit of Mount Taylor.

The bodies were unrecognizable and with the exception of that of the woman passenger, which had been burned less severely than others, only could be identified by dental work.

As the plane tore its way through the heavy growth of spruce and pine, it shed its tail and then its wings, one by one. There was not a piece of the all-metal plane, with the exception of doors and windows, left intact after the crash through the trees.

BLINDED BY RAIN

Aviators who were in the party of searchers said it appeared Pilot J. B. Stowe had been blinded by the severe rain and windstorm which beat Mount Taylor from the southwest Tuesday, and while keeping his bearings, did not realize he was flying so near the mountain and the wind drift carried him to the peak.

There was no indication the plane was struck by lightning, and the fact that the propeller of the left motor left its mark on a tree tended to show it had not, aviators said.

UNFORGETTABLE SCENE

An unforgettable drama played itself out on the slope of Mount Taylor shortly after sun-up yesterday. Planes circled overhead to draw the searchers toward the tragic heap they sought and when in the first full flash of the sun the converging group of officials and newspapermen uncovered the victims. The bodies were sprawled out in grotesque positions. Hands were clenched and some had thrust their arms before their faces as if to ward off the blow.

The bodies recovered were those of Amasa B. McGaffey, wealthy lumberman of Albuquerque; William Livermore, shipping man of Boston; M. Campbell, paper concern salesman of Cincinnati; William Henry Beers, New York golf magazine editor; Mrs. Corina Raymond, wife of George B. Raymond, Glendale, Cal.; J. B. Stowe, chief pilot of Glavia, N.M.; Edwin A. Dittel, co-pilot of New Braunfels, Texas; and C. F. Canfield, New York, courier.

up automobile tube which some of the children had been using. Supporting the almost unconscious girl on this tube, she slowly brought her to the beach and delivered her to the arms of her nearly-frantic parents, who rushed her quickly homeward.

Although still feeling the effects of her immersion, Miss Dibb had recovered to-day.

Sincere praise for the splendid action of both the boys and Miss Brooks in their rescue was expressed by those who witnessed the near-tragedy.

NARROW ESCAPE

Mrs. James Primrose, a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Hughes at their summer home, Kemp Lake, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon. Missing her footing as she was stepping into a boat to accompany Mrs. Hughes on a trout fishing trip around the lake, Mrs. Primrose, unable to swim, fell into the water and was in danger of drowning as she struggled to gain her footing on the muddy bottom of the lake. Joseph Woods, another member of the party, ran to the gangplank just in time to rescue Mrs. Primrose from her precarious position. Mr. Primrose and Mr. Hughes, at the far end of the lake, rowed with all speed to the scene of the accident, but the rescue had been effected before they reached the spot.

JEW AND ARAB

RT. HON. WINSTON CHURCHILL'S suggestion in his speech in Victoria last week that the outbreak in Palestine was associated with the dismissal of Lord Lloyd as High Commissioner of Egypt is scarcely in keeping with the record, which shows that the trouble is of many years' standing.

It will be recalled that there were anti-Jewish riots in the Holy Land in 1920 and again in 1922, and a general strike in 1925, when Earl Balfour went to Jerusalem to dedicate the Hebrew University. Arab delegations with grievances have been present at every session of the Mandates Commission of the League of Nations since it was formed. Lord Lloyd was not appointed High Commissioner to Egypt until 1925.

For many years, under the rule of the Turks, Arab and Jew managed to live side by side in peace. But after the victories of General Allenby, the Balfour declaration, and the final award to Britain of Palestine as mandated territory from the League of Nations, a new condition soon emerged. The Balfour note was a statement of British policy which favored the establishment of "a national home for the Jewish people." But it distinctly stated also that the adoption of such a policy would be without prejudice "to the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities" in that country.

To the Arabs in Palestine this latter guarantee of respect for the rights of non-Jewish communities did not go far enough. Arabs had desired much more. They wanted a new Arab State, including not only the Arabian Peninsula, but Syria and Mesopotamia, which are both chiefly Arab, and also Palestine, in which Arabs outnumbered Jews six to one at the end of the war. They also believed that, in return for their efforts in the war, the Allied Governments had promised to favor the creation of such a state, by declaring their purposes to be "the final liberation of the peoples so long oppressed by the Turks and the establishment of national governments and administrations deriving their authority from the initiative and free choice of the native populations."

Hence, the Balfour declaration, forecasting a separate British mandate for Palestine and British support for the Zionist experiment, is said to have caused dissatisfaction to the Arabs.

This is the background of a conflict which, in the light of the record, cannot be associated with the dismissal of Lord Lloyd from the High Commissionership of Egypt. Happily, the British Government has ample resources at hand for dealing with it.

The Jews resent the aggression of the Arabs, and demand adequate protection. They are vastly outnumbered, since the population of Palestine is overwhelmingly Arab. When Earl Balfour, in 1917, speaking in the name of the British Empire, pledged British aid to the millennial hope of a Jewish national home, there were some 55,000 Jews in Palestine, less than a twelfth of the total population. To-day there are nearly 150,000, hardly a sixth of the total. And while some of the Arabs are Christians and some are Moslems, all are fanatically nationalist Arabs. The Arab, incidentally, has seen in these Jews, so close to him ethnologically, only strangers in his land.

Under the mandate Britain has to bear all the expense and trouble of handling this crisis. It is a thankless task at best. She has endeavored to hold the balance evenly between Jew and Arab, but racial and religious prejudices are difficult to overcome. No doubt the British taxpayer feels like telling his Government to turn this mandate back to the League of Nations for some other country, or countries, to try their hands upon it—especially those countries which are so free with their criticism of the manner in which Britain is carrying this burden.

MR. BENNETT'S RECENT TOUR

NOW THAT HON. R. B. BENNETT HAS finished his speaking tour, Canadian newspapers are trying to estimate what he has accomplished for the party of which he is the leader, and what policies the Dominion might expect from him if at some time in the future he might be called upon to direct the government of the country.

Those newspapers which support Mr. Bennett and the Conservative Party, while by no means riotously enthusiastic about the tour or the platform fare with which the opposition leader regaled his audiences, seem satisfied on the whole. Newspapers which maintain a fairly independent attitude where the two great political parties are concerned do not seem quite sure just what to say. The following editorial from the Vancouver Daily Province surely dams Mr. Bennett with faint praise:

While political experts are divided in opinion as to results of Hon. R. B. Bennett's recent tour of British Columbia, from one aspect the leader's visit was a tremendous success.

Mr. Bennett departed from the beaten paths and went into the out-of-the-way places. He visited logging camps, mining towns, fishing villages and crossroads settlements. He paid little attention to the larger centres of population.

He paid the men and women who produce the real wealth of British Columbia the compliment of a personal visit. When he visited Alert Bay, or some other outpost of civilization, he incidentally received first-hand information upon conditions in the particular basic industry carried on in that neighborhood.

His public utterances in British Columbia contained little that was new, being a repetition of speeches made in the east. In some quarters the leader offended certain political friends. On the whole, the tour was a personal triumph. In it the Conservative leader displayed eagerness to serve the people and revealed himself as a first-class campaigner.

It is hardly to be supposed that Mr. Bennett will select the foregoing comments from our Vancouver contemporary for an honored place in his scrapbook. Nor is it likely that the following observations in the independent Ottawa Citizen will afford him any especial satisfaction:

The Conservatives held a national convention in Winnipeg in 1927, where they elected Mr. Bennett as leader. He is doing better than some of the candidates for leadership would have done in a rather thankless position. But the Winnipeg convention also threw together something resembling a political platform. Apparently the platform had a little substance in it, nobody ever hears an expression on it.

After attacking the Government, it is a stock answer of opposition leaders to say that the doctor will prescribe the remedy when he is called in by the patient. Apparently, in party politics, the main business of the opposition is to make the patient believe that he is suffering from some serious malady. The Canadian people cannot be persuaded that they are so seriously affected. Even when some are half persuaded by the opposition leader's eloquence, they should at least insist upon hearing something about the operations which the opposition's medicine men would perform after being entrusted with power.

Mr. Bennett had very few constructive ideas to submit to the many audiences he addressed. He made it clear, however, that his party is in favor of policies which would curtail Canada's business with the rest of the world. He seems to be opposed to external trade, because if we do not import we cannot export—and he opposes imports.

THAT STRONG PARENTAL ARM

AN INDIANA JUDGE, BEFORE WHOM appeared two small boys charged with the theft of $18 from a filling station, waxed eloquent on the decay of parental discipline. Said he:

"What you boys need is more rigid discipline at home. If you were my boys I would get a fifteen-foot elm pole and I would wear it off clear to the handle on both of you."

This judicial dictum may strike a popular chord. Yet it occurs to us that the judge is a bit confused. Proper home discipline does not, by any manner of means, go hand in hand with corporal punishment.

All that any man has to go on in this connection is his own memory. And we can recall many boyhood playmates who were extremely well-behaved, but who were not paddled from one year's end to another; and we also remember that the worst boy in town was a lad who was soundly whipped for the slightest infractions of the parental code.

It takes more than a strong right arm to make a good father. It is about time to stop insisting that all our ills would be solved if more children were only flogged.

LOG EXPORT

WHEN THE TOLMIE GOVERNMENT began its first session of the Legislature we predicted that never from the new office-holders would anything be heard about the export of logs—a favorite topic for Conservative attack when the party now in power was in opposition.

It is a dead and buried issue; but if it was dead and buried then, we may be permitted to say now that a suitable tombstone has been erected over its remains. It takes the form of an announcement that the export of cedar logs from the Abernethy-Loughheed Logging Company's camp at Stave Lake, in the British Columbia railway belt, will continue for another six months under a Dominion order-in-council. A similar order was issued to the concern, valid for twelve months, last year.

This order-in-council, like the one which preceded it, permits a large quantity of low-grade cedar to be taken from booms not in demand locally, and exported to the Japanese market. It is provided, however, that mills in the district in which the logging camp is situated must first be given an opportunity of acquiring any portion of the cut that may be required for manufacturing locally.

When Hon. N. S. Loughheed joined the Government, of course, he obviously put his colleagues on the right track in regard to this business of log export. He is a practical and highly successful lumberman. We do not know just what he said; but whatever it was, the effect of it was to end the controversy. Thus, he had to tell the Cabinet what Mr. Pattullo had told the Legislature many times—that these logs were not in demand in British Columbia, that we could ship them out and get paid for them, or leave them to be destroyed by the terrors.

ONTARIO POWER AND BRITAIN
Engineering, London
"The endeavor of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission," says Mr. Charles A. McGrath, chairman of that body, in submitting the twenty-first annual report to the Lieutenant-Governor of the province, "is not the concentration of industry at a few large power sites, but rather the broader policy of making as widespread a distribution of electrical energy as is economically possible." As how to do this is also a problem in this country, some of the results which have been obtained, admittedly by the use of the extensive water-power resources with which the province is blessed, are worthy of notice in Engineering.

RURAL ROADS
The Hamilton Spectator
Improvement of the province's rural roads would not only simplify the transportation of garden and farm produce to the cities, but enable the city folk to get better acquainted with their country cousins. Hon. Mr. Ferguson's auditors at Lindsay must have thought, before the Prime Minister finished, that Christmas had come ahead of schedule. Not only did Hon. Mr. Ferguson give an assurance of improved country roads, but he outlined an ambitious plan for the extension of hydro service in the rural sections and the extension of educational facilities in the outlying districts. The present Government, it is plain, will not be forced into an election by Hon. Mr. Sinclair, and it is equally apparent that when it does go to the people it will have a clearly-defined, constructive policy.

Loose Ends

Out of the mouths of Russian babes comes a strange jargon—out of Siberia a grim aftermath of the war—out of England an incredible tale—and out of France a dictum on the modern woman.

By H. D. W.

OUT OF SOVIET Russia come many strange things, but none stranger than an account of the annual rally of the Communist Boy and Girl Scouts. These 3,000,000 young Russians are the heirs of the Revolution and they seem to appreciate their heritage. Thus spoke young Russia in the voice of a boy scout of twelve years, to the correspondent of the New York Times: "The Communist youths are still tainted by bourgeois ideology. They fuss about sex, religion, drinking and money and whether your father was a real proletarian or not. We think all that's kinda bourgeois—to worry about it." I mean. This mark you, from a boy of twelve. If it is a fair sample of young Russia, if these are the boys who are going to succeed the present generation of Bolshevik rulers things over there are worse than we had suspected. What may we expect from men who as children at the age of twelve lisped about bourgeois ideology? Such babbling from the mouths of the unfortunate babes of the Revolution show that Lenin knew what he was talking about when he said: "Give me four years to educate the children and I do not care what happens to us leaders."

ANOTHER strange piece of news also came out of Russia lately. It was revealed that 10,000 Hungarians, captured in the World War by the Russian Armies, when they were making their great pre-revolutionary drive on the eastern front, are still held in Russian prison camps. These men cannot be repatriated because there are no diplomatic relations between Hungary and Russia, and the Hungarian government has no money for this purpose anyway, according to Count Czaky, Hungarian minister of war. He declared that the prisoners were distributed all over Siberia and led a miserable existence. They are not even allowed to correspond with their relatives at home because the letter censorship permits the use only of Russian, German, French and English, all tongues foreign to the prisoners.

SURELY this nameless band are the most tragic of all the victims of the great upheaval. Lost in the boundless wastes of Siberia, like the Czar's prisoners in Romanoff days, even their names are forgotten. Honorable prisoners of war, apparently they are doomed to life sentences though the war has been over these eleven years. A hundred years from now the world may have some real idea of these things and of the Russia which is too close to our generation to be seen in accurate perspective.

THE MOST amazing story that has come out of England these many years has lately been recorded in some provincial city whose name for the moment escapes me. Anyway, it is reported that a swindler succeeded in securing money for all manner of fraudulent schemes by telling his victims that he was what the English papers call a journalist. (In this country a newspaper man is one who has a job, and a journalist one who hasn't.)

NOW THIS embosser was surely a super-embosser. To persuade anyone to loan a newspaperman money is no mean feat. To secure money under the guise of a journalist is a performance which has no parallel in our time. The gentleman who achieved it has a bright future before him as an actor, or as a journalist. But perhaps his victims suspected all along that he was lying and was neither newspaper man nor journalist, and felt, therefore, that they might have a chance of getting their money back.

IN CIRCLES where such things are interesting there rages a controversy now over the growing practice of publishing photographs of authors beside their works, whether they be epic novels, or articles on dieting-grow-fat. On one hand, it is said that this arrangement is unfair to writers, for they cannot help their faces, with which they were born, even if they can help their writings, with which they were not.

ON THE other hand, another school contends that the continual publication of an author's photograph is bound to exercise a wholesome effect on what he writes. Thus they argue, with a subtle reasoning, that if Mr. Chesterton is going to be pictured beside one of his articles on an uplifting, spiritual subject, he will seek to appear as uplifted and spiritual as possible; while if he is supposed to be writing wit, he will assume a comical expression which will make his readers like his stuff the more because they think he is a jolly old dog.

FROM THIS premise, though in the case of Mr. Chesterton it wouldn't work, for he would be sure to enact a photographic paradox—from this premise they conclude that if an author poses as spiritual and uplifted sufficiently he may at last imbibe these qualities and impart them to his work, while if he is pictured in comic pose often enough, after a while, by some strange process of nature, he may become witty. In this way, we are assured, the publication of photographs may ultimately improve the quality of our literature beyond our wildest dreams. So far, however, publishers haven't achieved this noble purpose. Our literature would benefit still more if in many cases, if they must publish something, they would publish the portraits and suppress the writings that go with them.

FINANCE HAS recently given its verdict on the American woman and while, as you would expect, it is gallant, it carries a sting in the tail. This verdict was rendered by one Herve Laudewick, social correspondent of many leading French papers and apparently authority on such matters. Mr. Laudewick finds that the American woman is the most elegant creature in the world because she knows how to dress and has the money to buy clothes.

AND YET, he cannot help preferring his own countrywomen even to these foreign charms. They may be less perfectly turned out but they have a native, simple allure which tradition and race have given them. To illustrate the extravagance of the Americans, he testifies that if the luggage limit on a train, boat, or aeroplane is thirty pounds the Englishwoman takes up to that limit, the Frenchwoman risks thirty-eight and the American ninety-five. Where the Frenchwoman has two dresses the American has five. And, concludes Mr. Laudewick, with a real touch of Parisian gallantry, the American woman is most charming in conversation—when talking about nothing.

There arrived in the Royal Roads this morning one of the oldest clipper ships that has distinguished herself on many occasions for fast voyages. THANKS RESCUER

To the Editor:—I would like to take this opportunity, with your permission, of thanking the unknown friend who came so courageously to the assistance of my ten-year-old boy and undoubtedly saved his life at St. Margaret's Beach on Labor Day.

JENNERISM

To the Editor:—I recently chanced upon a pamphlet which began with these erroneous words: "Smallpox is a disease resulting from the entrance of a certain germ into the body of a person. Concerning this smallpox germ we now know a great deal which was unknown a hundred years ago, or even fifty. No form of fifth or dix, produces smallpox, only this germ itself, alive and active can produce this disease."

If the first sentence in a pamphlet in favor of vaccination is open to criticism, what reason have we to rely on any further statements which may appear therein? There is no proof whatever that germs cause disease and no germ has yet been found in connection with smallpox. Smallpox will flourish in unsanitary conditions, as it did in England centuries ago, and with disastrous results. Inoculation with smallpox itself became as fashionable as it spread the disease faster than ever. It was particularly rife between 1700 and 1800. When Edward Jenner came along with his dairymaid's superstition that vaccination with cowpox would abolish smallpox, his theory was put into practice. Smallpox began to decline, not because of Jenner's treatment but because the dangerous inoculations were abolished. His treatment was dangerous enough but not so bad as the inoculation process. Sanitary conditions were, however, bad in the extreme; smallpox still flourished vigorously and vaccination was made compulsory by Act of Parliament in 1853. After this act there were three bad epidemics, 1857-9 with (Concluded on Page 20)

GARDENERS ARE CONGRATULATED ON EXHIBITION

Ward Two, Saanich, Cottage Gardeners' Association Held Excellent Annual Display

Hon. William Atkinson Tells of Opportunity For Bulb Production Here

"We have on Vancouver Island the climate and all advantages necessary to create a gigantic horticultural industry which will supply the entire Dominion," stated Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, in opening the thirteenth annual exhibition for Ward Two, Saanich, Cottage Gardeners' Association on Saturday afternoon.

Upwards of $150,000 worth of bulbs were imported here, and this demand could be met from local production, which was in every way equal to that of the imported stocks, continued the Minister. Exhibitions such as the one before him were proof of what could be done on the island, and created the question of why more was not attempted.

On the mainland, continued Mr. Atkinson, white growers outnumbered those of other races three to one in production for home consumption. While on the Island Orientals produced nearly half of all the vegetables and garden stuffs used. An effort should be made to retrieve all ground lost in this direction, he said.

Mr. Atkinson, who was introduced by Councillor J. McN. Peterson, was thanked for his encouraging address in declining the exhibition open.

W. L. Llewellyn, the secretary, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Judges, George Robinson of Royal Oak and Mrs. J. D. Gordon, 1326 Woodland Road, Mrs. Gordon, responding, congratulated the district on the excellent showing made. Councillor Peterson presented prizes. The committee in charge of the exhibition was as follows: President, Councillor Peterson; vice-president, F. Crowe; and Messrs. Deveson, Pearce and S. Little (Saanich Street), and Messrs. Crowe, Little, Ferriman, Johnson, Pearce and Stephens, and Secretary W. L. Llewellyn.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

This Advance and Ruth's Slugging Real Highlights

VICTORIA'S final race meet of the season opened Saturday at the Colwood mile track with splendid weather conditions and the oval in perfect condition. With a good crowd present betting was brisk and everything went off nicely to make the day one of the best recent years. Keen racing featured the entire programme of seven races.

This is the last race meet in British Columbia so it is expected large crowds will turn out every day until the final meet Saturday. The Colwood Park Association has been fortunate in obtaining the pick of the thoroughbreds for their meet. On Saturday the card was one of the best offered on any track in the province this season. There were plenty of good horses and large fields.

The starting on the opening day was exceptionally good. As a matter of fact, the horses were good at all the previous meets here this season. There have been few instances of anything but high class starts, and surprisingly small number of horses have suffered from "post breaks." "Quarter-horse" Neary is a good man at the barrier.

Manager Shaughnessy of the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, has announced that the club will be greatly strengthened before the opening of the coming season, but despite frantic efforts to secure help he has had little success in the open market. Victoria hockey fans will be interested to learn that Gordon "Duke" Keats, who starred last season with the Tulsa Club in the American Association, has been purchased by the club that sent him to the minor league.

Tulsa paid $5,000 for Keats's services, and the Chicago owners figured they had put over a good deal, but Keats struck a winning stride under the coaching of Dick Carroll, of Toronto, and led his league in goal scoring, the rules in force aiding him considerably. Never possessed of much speed, he took advantage of the offside pass, and as a result netted many goals. However, Manager Shaughnessy faces a difficult task if he hopes to give Chicago a winning team. Good players cannot be bought these days, and the amateur field is getting smaller every year. Professional clubs will discover that it will be bad business for them if they raid the amateur leagues and deprive them of their best performers. Amateur hockey will have to be fostered if professional league desires to maintain the present high standard of play.

Jimmy McLarnin, of Vancouver, one time terror of the lightweights, will make his return to the ring, this time as a full-fledged welterweight on October 1, when he meets Sergeant Baker, the rubber-legged ex-champion, at the New York Coliseum. As a lightweight McLarnin belted the boys around quite a bit. He knocked out Sid Terris, Phil McCraw and others, but failed rather hopelessly against Ray Miller, the Chicago left hooker and Sammy Mandell. Miller and McLarnin made a lot of the dull fights of last season, largely because both were so nervous about the other fellow's punching ability.

In Baker, McLarnin is meeting a somewhat shrewd opponent who was sailing along on the heights eighteen months ago, but who has been a trial horse recently, and not so sure of himself as he was when he was a comparative unknown. However, he should give McLarnin a fair tussle in his welterweight debut, since he is aggressive, fairly strong and occasionally uncorks a little dynamite in either hand.

At least six managerial shifts are likely to be made this winter in the major league. Dan Howley is expected to leave the St. Louis Browns and may be changed to succeed Judge Emil Fuchs as field leader of the Boston Braves. Wilbert Robinson will step out of the Brooklyn picture as soon as his contract expires this fall. Walter Johnson, manager of the Washington Senators, it is said, will voluntarily relinquish his post because of uncertainty in health. Jack Hendricks, the grey-haired batter who has had a change of the Cleveland Indians is due to be eased out of his position. Tony Blackburne of the Chicago White Sox, according to reliable reports, Bill Curran, of the Boston Red Sox, and Bert Struthof, of the Philadelphia National League club, will both stick as long as they want to. Lack of material, and not managerial incompetence is held responsible for the failure of their clubs. Both are anchored in last places in their respective leagues.

Reports point toward Ethmeke was left at home when the Philadelphia Athletics went on the road recently because his fellow-players were displeased at his desire to pitch in and help the other hurlers. Ethmeke was with Detroit, Ty Cobb, his manager, grew very sour on him and shipped him to the Boston Red Sox. But in the course of his long stay with Boston, Ethmeke proved there was nothing wrong with his disposition. With a ragged team of losers, Ethmeke pitched remarkably fine ball. Somehow he has never been able to hit his best stride with the A's. Possibly the tall fellow is through. He has been in the big leagues a long time, being one of the few Federal League survivors still in the big time.

Mixed Foursome To Be Held at Colwood

A mixed foursome competition will be held at the Colwood Golf Club on Wednesday. The event will be eight-ten holes, match play on handicap. Post entries will be received.

Two Major League Leaders Expected to Reach Mathematical Certainty by End of Week; Ruth Assaults Detroit Pitchers for Forty-first and Forty-second Home Runs; O'Doul Hits Well to Increase Lead Over Herman; Pirates Beaten by Brooklyn in Duel.

A dark and rainy week-end on the major league front saw the coming champions in the respective circuits march somewhat closer to the armistice which will precede the world series, but not so much closer as they might have marched with better luck. This advance and Babe Ruth's assault upon Detroit pitchers for his forty-first and forty-second home runs held the attention of such customers as appeared before the turnstiles.

No fault could be found with the attendance at Chicago, where the Cubs took two from the Boston Braves on Saturday by 13-6 and 9-3, only to see the Bostonians grab a Sunday "slugger" by 13-11, but larger crowds have been known at Shibe Park than the one which saw Philadelphia divide two with Cleveland on Saturday.

The week-end was a total loss for the Cincinnati Reds and the New York Giants at Cincinnati, where three scheduled games were washed away, necessitating a double-header to-day and a single engagement on Tuesday, which had been an open date.

The week-end campaign left the Cubs in need of eight victories and the Athletics in need of nine to clinch their respective flags.

Every defeat for the Yankees or the Pirates, of course, lessens by one the number of victories required by the Athletics or the Cubs. At the present clip, both should gain the mathematical certainty early in the week beginning next Sunday, and the Cubs may be able to do it sooner.

Rogers Hornsby entertained the big crowds at Wrigley Field with a home run on each afternoon, bringing his total for the season to thirty-five—one behind Wilson and Ott and two behind Klein, the league leader.

After bowing in Pittsburgh on Saturday by 6-2, the Brooklyn Robins on the Sabbath brought the Pirates back to Ebbets Field, where Dazzy Vance outpointed Ray French by 2-1 in a moist game attended by a handful of fans. The Phillies nipped the Cards by 4-1 on Saturday and gained an even break yesterday, the game scheduled for Sunday being advanced as a result.

The Philadelphia team, which was downed by 4-3 in the six-inning nightcap, which saw Chick Hefey hit a very useful home. The second game was postponed to Harry Smythe, his second defeat.

Frank O'Doul, the reformed pitcher, sampled St. Louis pitching for seven hits in seven times at bat over the week-end. Lifting a total of three home points more than his rival, Babe Herman could boast this morning. Herman got three out of nine and lost a point.

The A's won the first game handsily on Saturday by 5-1 behind the fine pitching of Bob Grove, who scored his ninth victory, but Willis Hudlin outpointed Rube Walberg by 4-0 in the nightcap.

The series was halted yesterday to celebrate a Philadelphia Sabbath.

THREE HOME RUNS
Detroit shaded the Yanks by 5-4 in the opener on Saturday, but the big guns of the dying champions booted out an 11-7 decision in the second encounter. Nine bases on balls by Vic Sorrell in four rounds and three more by Emil Yde in the next five clinched Sunday's game for Roy Sherid by 9-3.

In addition to Ruth's forty-second, the game was marked by Lou Gehrig's thirtieth and Bill Dickey's tenth. The Boston Red Sox rallied in the ninth on Saturday to nose out the Browns 4-3 and won the first game yesterday in much the same manner and by an identical score. The second game was called at the end of the tenth with the score 6-0. The Sunday law in Boston forces a halt at 6 o'clock. Another bargain is on at the Fenway Park today.

Sheffield's Great Record Shattered By Arsenal Eleven

The Wednesday Drop First Game at Home in Eighteen Months Before Crowd of 38,000; Goal Scoring Heavy in English League Matches; Grimsby Town's Victory Over Newcastle United Week-end's Surprise; Glasgow Rangers Drop First Point of Season.

London, Sept. 9.—Sheffield Wednesday's eighteen months' unbeaten record for home soccer matches was shattered Saturday, when Arsenal beat them by 2-0 in the presence of 38,000 people. This game and Grimsby Town's brilliant victory at home over Newcastle United by 4-0 were the high lights in English First Division League matches Saturday.

Goal scoring was heavy. Eight tallies were registered at Upton Park where West Ham United downed Middlesbrough by 5 to 3.

Grimsby Town had the Newcastle team under their thumb long before the finish. Twenty-two thousand people saw the game at the Coliseum sent in Robson for the first goal for Grimsby and Coggins scored a penalty.

After the interval Priestly and Straby, both half-backs, added their tallies, to leave Newcastle completely subdued.

It was Arsenal's well conserved tactics, together with their clever range finding and sharp shooting, which humbled the Sheffielders.

Jack scored half an hour after the start, the ball slipping out of Brown's arms. Hulme added Arsenal's second goal thirty minutes after the turn round. Arsenal was without James, Lewis and Baker.

PRESTON GOES UNDER
"Proud Preston," as they were once called in pre-war days, had whatever pride they had left after recent lean years completely dissipated by the newly-promoted Charlton Athletic. Charlton won by 3 to 0. The match was a second division fixture and staged at Preston. Whitlow, two, and Wyper scored.

Twenty thousand Oldham fans saw the home team beat Chelsea and achieve their third success of the season.

Nine goals were scored in the match between Brighton and Hove and Norwich at Brighton, the home team netting six. The teams were playing in a third division southern section match. Stockpool had to fight to reserve their unbeaten home record of over two seasons against Wiganboro in a northern section game. Each side scored a goal.

Doncaster had to field six reserves, which explains their crushing defeat at the hands of Darlington by 5 goals to 2.

Glasgow, Sept. 9.—Against Aberdeen, the Scottish first division soccer champions, Rangers, lost their first point this season. The teams battled to a draw, 1 to 1, before a record crowd of 31,000 at Aberdeen Saturday.

Cheyron scored for Aberdeen early in the first half and Alan Morton equalized. Aberdeen netted again in the second half through Clarke. The referee first of all allowed the score, but Rangers protested, and after consulting with the linesmen the referee reversed his decision and cancelled the goal. Only ten first division league matches were played, Clyde and Celtic being engaged in a Glasgow Cup match.

Kilmarnock came out ahead of Ayr United through Celtic goals, one of them coming after a penalty, and kept on the heels of the league leaders, Williamson early in the match dislocated his wrist.

DUNDEE SURPRISED
Kirkcaldy, through the goals of Snider and Burke, surprised Dundee United at Tannadice, while Falkirk also blanked Morton. Morrison, who, also blanked Morton for Falkirk.

Hearts won at Motherwell by 2 to 0. Smith and Bates got Hearts' goals. Cowdenbeath scored first against Hibernians through Lindsay, but Dick equalized, leaving the teams deadlocked at the final.

Falkirk's Thistle only drew against Hamilton. Simpson, who has yet to fail to score in a league game this season, got the two Thistle's goals, while McKay had both Hamilton's tallies. St. Johnstone crushed Queen's Park at Perth, 4-0.

St. Mirren won over Dundee, 3-0. Stewart, son of the old Scottish international goalkeeper, has scored in every match he has played in this season.

In the Glasgow Cup match Clyde scored first through Jessiman, Celtic equalizing from a penalty through McGonnigle.

Golf Teams Play Sunday In Match For Wilson Trophy

Teams from the Colwood and Victoria golf clubs will play next Sunday in the second half of the match for the Biggerstaff Wilson Cup. The "A" teams will play at Colwood and the "B" squads at Oak Bay. In the first half of the match played last April, Oak Bay registered a lead of seventeen points.

Smiling Jimmy Johnson New U.S. Golf Champion

Great Recovery On Second Round Defeats Willing

Both Finalists Show Great Strain in Tournament and As Result Play Poor Brand of Golf; Willing, After Finishing One Up at End of First Round, Faltered Before Brilliant Play of St. Paul Golfer; Crowd, After Favoring Winner, Gives B-11 Great Hand at Finish.

By ROBERT EDGREN

Pebble Beach, Sept. 9.—Just a few minutes after 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Harrison (Jimmy) Johnson stepped into the shoes vacated by United States Amateur Golf Champion Bobby Jones in the first elimination round only three days ago. Those shoes ought to fit. It would be hard to pick out a better figure of a champion than the tall, broad-shouldered, handsome and smiling gentleman who has just put St. Paul, Minnesota, on the map. That certainly was the opinion of the great crowd that stampeded from hole to hole through morning and afternoon rounds.

From the start Johnson was favorite with the crowd. His careless stride, swinging shoulders and half smile through the competition caught the crowd's fancy. Dr. Oscar Willing of Portland, Oregon, was just a bit less picturesque and there's nothing that a golf crowd prefers to picturesqueness in a champion or a coming champion. Dr. Willing was extremely serious. He studied his shots with care. He kept everybody holding his breath, or he held one's breath after galloping wildly from green trying to get a position from which next round could be viewed without the aid of an aeroplane or a stepladder. Dr. Willing's grim determination was all right from his standpoint. He was out there after several months of intensive preparation to shoot everything he had in his system in an effort to win a championship. But a golf crowd isn't entirely unlike a prizefight crowd, it likes a little

IS JAILED

Mickey Walker

Hollywood, Sept. 9.—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, jailed here early to-day on charges of being drunk and possessing intoxicants.

The finish at the fourteenth, Willing struggled along, halving the seventh and eighth and winning the ninth, but Johnson took the tenth and twelfth. There four up, he held Willing to halved holes to finish 4 and 3. Jimmy Johnson was going like a champion throughout that last fourteen. It might have strained even Bobby Jones to hold his pace. The championship cup was presented half an hour later on the lawn in front of the lodge, and Jimmy Johnson made some appreciative remarks about the scenery and all that sort of thing. Bobby Jones, speech making, said: "I've had a great disappointment." Bobby stepped here until the crowd wondered what was coming next. Then Bobby went on: "This is my first trip west, and so far as I can see the Pacific isn't any larger than the Atlantic."

FAVORITES OR SECOND CHOICES WIN

No Long Prices Seen at Opening Day of Race Meet at Colwood Track

Billy Walz, Show Horse, Returns $14.90 For Biggest Price of Day

Favorites and second choices experienced a banner day at the Colwood mile track Saturday upon the opening of the final seven-day race meet of the British Columbia season. The biggest price of the day was returned by a show horse, Billy Walz, in the seventh race who returned his backers with $14.90. However, in the majority of cases the winners paid even money or better to the "lucky ones" were satisfied.

For an opening day the crowd was not as big as expected and the betting, although fairly brisk, was not very heavy. A large contingent of Vancouver followers arrived in the city yesterday and will swell the crowds for the remaining six days.

The weather was excellent while the track was in first-class condition and the opening day was a complete success as far as the racing went. The crowd witnessed plenty of good finishes.

Pangold, the heavily-backed favorite, with Ellsworth up, breezed home to capture the opening event and reward his backers with $4.70 for a nose bet. Trade Wind finished strongly to take second money, while Merol was runner-up. Irish Jury came through with a rush on the stretch but was unable to catch the leaders, finishing fourth.

Lady Spin, running in this field, captured the second race and was one of the few winners to pay double figures. Hanging back until the stretch she winner forged rapidly to the front and beat out Coeur de Lion, the favorite, by half a length. Manoa, also in the field, was third. Don Eduardo failed to finish, was left at the post.

In the third race the dopsters saw their favorite Since fail to finish the money. In this mile race Alberta Lad, with Robertson aboard, rated in behind the leaders until the halfway point and then moved up to the front to finish a length ahead of Edwili D. Esther Clarke was third. The winner paid $7.10.

Although he was left at the post, Yorkhome found no trouble in capturing the fourth event over a mile and one-sixteenth. Laying back behind Rapid, the favorite, he came home to lead on the far stretch and was never in danger. Rapid was a good second and Hill and Hill, a coming youngster, third. Yorkhome acted badly in the fifth race, but he was the favorite. Nearly seven minutes to get this time away.

In the fifth event, the Cougar Handicap, the feature race of the afternoon's card, Bowcroft broke fast to make every post a winner. Going into a three lengths lead at the halfway point he was never challenged, finishing going away. Simony, the heavily backed favorite, after getting away well quit after half way and failed to finish in the money. Tules Girl being second and Hill and Hill, a coming youngster, third.

Muriel H. proved far too good for the field in the sixth race and after running Jimmy Trinz, who broke on top, into submission, won as she pleased, finishing a good time ahead of Seth's Bacon. Slipper to Slipper was third. Captain Adams fell right in front of the mutual board, but his jockey, Le Boy, managed to jump clear and except for an injured hip suffered little from his fall.

Tuxedo Sam, the favorite, ran away from his field in the half mile race to take the seventh race by a big margin. Neldo Jo was second and Billy Walz third. Robertson was the leading jockey of the afternoon with two winners and a third.

The results follow:
First race, claiming, purse $300; for three-year-olds and older, five furlongs—1, Pangold, $4.70, $2.30, $2.90; 2, Trade Wind, $4.70, $3.60; 3, Rexoil, $4.10, Time, 1:01 4-5. Also ran: Irish Jury, Little Shasta, Little Smoke, Patriarch, Aden H. Jack Jr., Little Flapper, Paved Way, May B. Rite.

Second race, claiming, purse $300; for three-year-olds and older, mile and one-sixteenth—1, Yorkhome, $5.50, $2.35, $2.25; 2, Rapid, $2.50, $2.30; 3, Hill and Hill, $2.90, Time, 1:49 2-5. Also ran: Bobbie Doyle, Louis Wright, Sweet Money.

Typos' Convention Visits Victoria to Mark "Canada Day"

International Typographical Union Delegates, Attending Convention at Seattle, Guests of Victoria Local at Largest Banquet Ever Held at Empress Hotel; Delegates Motor to Butchart's Gardens; Ss. Princess Adelaide Brings Excursion.

Victoria yesterday entertained 1,200 delegates to the seventy-fourth annual convention of the International Typographical Union, now holding in Seattle its first meeting on the Northwest Pacific Coast. The occasion had been specially designated "Canada Day," in honor of the Dominion, and the excursion to Victoria was made by the steamer Princess Adelaide, specially chartered for the occasion. The convention delegates and their ladies were the guests of the Victoria local at a banquet at the Empress Hotel in the evening, following a motor tour to the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart. On the arrival of the steamer the party gathered at the Parliament Buildings and a group photograph of the convention was taken.

At the banquet the visitors were accommodated in the ballroom, the grillroom, the new palm room and the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel, the speeches being transmitted from the ballroom by amplifiers. R. P. Pettipiece, president of the Northwest Typographical Conference, was chairman, the head table being backed by the Union Jack, flanked with the ensigns of the United States and Canada.

PROVINCIAL WELCOME
Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Labor, on behalf of Premier Tomin and the Provincial Government, welcomed the delegates and their ladies to Victoria, regretting that the visit was so short. He pointed out that the International Typographical Union was one of the most important and successful trades organizations in Canada and the United States and had shown notable progress in recent years. He recalled that in 1892 the membership had been 28,000 and was today 76,000, and incidentally remarked that J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, had been a member for forty-two years. Indicating the possibilities for good inherent in well-managed trades organizations, Mr. McKenzie recalled that the International Typographical Union had paid out pensions of more than $10,000,000 in twenty years, had expended more than $5,000,000 in death benefits and had devoted many millions of dollars towards reduction of hours of work and improvement of working conditions.

"This is a wonderful record. Your members of thirty or forty years ago looked keenly into the future. They laid the foundations well, and you today reap the benefit of their vision," he commented.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION

Mr. McKenzie informed the delegates that British Columbia had more social legislation than any other province in Canada. He stated that the Workmen's Compensation Board paid in 1928 compensation to the amount of $4,600,000, and pointed out that this had been achieved by a population of between 800,000 and 700,000.

"Every $100 collected had cost the people only $2.54 to administer. This has been possible because the board is divorced from politics," he said.

Mr. McKenzie sketched the operations of the Minimum Wage Acts for men and women, the Old Age Pensions Act and the Hours of Work Act, declaring all to be working smoothly. He remarked that 4,000 people were receiving old age pensions in British Columbia.

CIVIC GREETINGS

Mayor Herbert Anscomb delighted the delegates with a witty-phrased welcome on behalf of the city of Victoria, and remarked that the success of the International Typographical Union indicated adherence to policies all statesmen might emulate, which had resulted in all working for the good of everyone. He was glad to have the privilege of meeting such a great gathering, the largest yet held in Victoria, and remarked: "If Anglo-Saxon civilization is to continue in the forefront, it must be cherished by those in all parts of the world who have reverence for its traditions and determination to maintain its standards."

PROVINCE GAVE AID

James D. Davidson, president of the Victoria local, welcomed the delegates and thanked the Seattle convention committee for permitting the Victoria local to be of service. He expressed thanks to the Provincial Government for contribution of the handsome souvenir programmes, and his reference to the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart at "Benvenuto" aroused rounds of applause from the delegates. Charles P. Howard, president; Theodore Perry, first vice-president; and George Bentley, second vice-president, were detained in Seattle by urgent convention business, and the duty of representing the International Typographical Union was undertaken by Woodruff Randolph, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Randolph's assurance to Victoria, "We shall come back," was greeted with rounds of applause, and he assured both Victoria and Vancouver unions when touching upon the arrangements for Canada Day, that he had never attended any convention where the arrangements had been taken care of with the neatness and dispatch shown here.

Mr. Randolph pointed out that the trades unions were organized for the advantage of and supplemental to civil government, this being especially so in regard to the Typographical Union.

By educating men in the locals in the process of government, they had produced leaders who had attained the ranks of governors or even higher posts in the gifts of the people. He pointed out that men learn the processes of economic movements within the trade unions. He touched upon the wide scope of modern governmental activity, and recited the many ways this has been supplemented by the International Union within the confines of its membership.

GEREROUS PENSIONS

"Our 76,000 members have brought old age pensions further than any government in the world," he asserted, and told of mortuary benefits, rehabilitation of sick and other matters now carried on by the union which in future years he expected to be carried by the state. "In doing this we demonstrate our value as a social agency. Out of every dollar paid in dues, ninety cents is devoted to pensions, mortuary benefits and the home of aged and sick printers. Without expenditure of the ten cents remaining on advancement of material interests of the general membership, all this social activity would fall," he pointed out. "Carry home with you a remembrance that you have been in a different country this day, a land where things are done more efficiently than they often are at home," he concluded.

B. C. Nicholas, on behalf of the printing industry and the press, expressed pleasure in meeting the representatives of the most efficiently conducted labor organization on the continent. He remarked that the Typographical Union had raised the standard of its craft and thereby the standards of humanity. He also paid tribute to the fine sentiment which had provided, as a convention feature, celebration of "Canada Day," and closed, amid applause, with a warm appreciation of the most admirable orchestra which the delegates had brought from Seattle, composed of members of the printing craft attending the convention.

The vocal entertainment supporting the musicians included solos by Mrs. V. J. Baines, Mrs. A. W. Stokes and R. Pollock, and duets by James Petrie and G. W. Farmer. Miss Dorothy Morton was accompanist.

There's Real Food Value in Autumn's Lima Beans

By SISTER MARY

With the coming of autumn, vegetables gain a certain substantial quality not found in the more delicate summer varieties. Lima beans are a heartier food than the string beans of early summer. One-fourth cup of fresh Lima beans served in butter furnishes 100 calories of protein, fat and carbohydrate, while it takes two and one-fourth cups of string beans to supply 100 calories.

There are several varieties of Lima beans, tiny green ones, large green ones and large flat white ones, but they must all be gathered for immediate use before the milk inside the tender shell covering sets. As the beans ripen the covering grows hard and difficult to digest and the creamy centre becomes firm and dry. No matter how long the beans are cooked these conditions cannot be altered.

FOR OVER-RIPE BEANS

When the beans are over-ripe and the covering is tough, the best way to serve them is to rub them through a colander to remove the shell and use them in a puree or soufflé.

One pint of tender shelled Lima beans will serve four persons.

Beans are lacking in fat, so this must be supplied in the seasoning.

The most delicious way to serve Lima beans is in cream. One-half cup cream, seasoned with salt and pepper, added to two cups of tender cooked Lima beans, makes the addition of butter unnecessary. Heat the cream to the scalding point after pouring over beans but do not let boil.

If cream is not at hand, a thin sauce of the consistency of thick cream can be substituted. Two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon flour and one-half cup of milk are the proportions to use for this sauce.

Succotash made with Lima beans is delicious and provides a way to make the dish serve extra persons.

SUCCOTASH

One pint Lima beans, two cups corn cut from cob, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons butter, one cup milk.

Wash beans and cook in boiling, unsalted water for twenty minutes. Add corn cut from the cob and cook ten minutes. Cook water away as much as possible and stir to prevent sticking.

Add milk, butter and salt and bring to the boiling point but do not let boil.

This rule will serve six persons.

VANCOUVER MOTORIST IS BADLY INJURED

Vancouver, Sept. 9.—Forced into the ditch by a hit-and-run driver, Mrs. William Unger, 2741 Pender Street, was injured yesterday and was taken to St. Paul's Hospital suffering with a severe gash on the head and shock. The accident occurred at Cloverdale, Sunday. The car in which Mrs. Unger was riding is said to have been forced off the road by a car coming up from behind and was severely damaged in the smash. No trace has been found of the hit-and-run car. Two other occupants of the damaged car, Hartman Unger, fourteen, and Harold Henney, 112 Forty-second Avenue West, received minor injuries. Both received treatment at St. Paul's for cuts about the faces, and heads, but were able to proceed to their homes.

Woman Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sarnia, Ont.—"I am willing to answer letters from other women, to tell them the wonderful good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me. I cannot be thankful enough for the benefits I received during the Change of Life. I do housework and my troubles made me unfit to work. A friend advised me to try the Vegetable Compound. I felt great relief at once, began to regain my appetite, and my nerves got better. I will recommend your medicine to all with troubles like I had."—Mrs. JOHN BENSON, 162 N. Christina St., Sarnia, Ontario.

Their increasing use year after year is proof that they do help and can't harm. Take them for any ache; to avoid the pain peculiar to women; many have found them marvelous at such times. B.C. FIRE RISK IS LIGHTER NOW

Ninety-six Fires Still Burning in Province, Though Cool Nights Aid Fire Control

Firefighters in British Columbia coped with 1,781 fires this year up to Saturday, it is reported by P. Z. Caverhill, chief forester. This compares with 1,341 fires for the same period in last year. Generally throughout the Province the fire hazard has been slightly reduced, owing to the long, cool nights, with dew; but in some sections of the lower mainland the hazard remains.

Out of six forestry patrol districts five show improved conditions at the present time, with only that of Vancouver recorded as fairly hazardous. Cariboo, Kamloops, the Interior, Prince George and Prince Rupert are reported as experiencing favorable or improving conditions. Seventy-three new fires were reported last week, and ninety-six fires are still burning.

BLOODHOUNDS FOR COUGARS TO BE TRAINED

Game Wardens Here to Get Dog Sleuths to Track Panthers

Back from attending the convention of Western Game Commissioners at San Francisco, Chief Game Commissioner of B. C. A. Bryan Williams announced that cougar-hunting bloodhounds are to be supplied to game wardens in the worst panther-infested districts of the Island and Lower Mainland.

Four panther-sleuthing dogs have already been acquired. Mr. Williams said, and other dogs are being trained by experts in cougar tracking.

Mr. Williams visited the game farms in California and Oregon, where he found that great success was being achieved in raising pheasants in incubators and electric brooders.

In British Columbia, he said, poultrymen were now, as a result of legislation passed at last session, rearing game birds for the table. At the Elk Lake game farm more birds are being raised this year than ever before.

Refrigerator Makers Avoiding Use Of Poisonous Gases

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Among the irritating gases used in refrigeration are sulphur dioxide and ammonia. Everyone knows that ammonia burns and irritates and that it is not safe to be around when ammonia is escaping.

Workers who become unconscious following an explosion and who are thus exposed to quantities of ammonia die as a result of the burning of the tissues. They do not die as a result of the absorption of the gas. It is impossible to remain in air filled with ammonia without wearing a gas mask.

Sulphur dioxide is a gas with extremely irritating properties. Sulphur dioxide under pressure in the liquefied state is used in the ice machines. When a person comes in contact with sulphur dioxide, the eyes and throat are irritated. If there is any considerable amount of sulphur dioxide in the air, it is impossible to breathe.

A person who is conscious under such circumstances leaves promptly. Thus sulphur dioxide is a more poisonous gas than methyl chloride, but its use in daily life is not nearly so dangerous because it makes its presence known.

The records do not indicate a single instance of fatal poisoning from sulphur dioxide gas used in household refrigerators. When a person becomes poisoned by any irritant gas such as sulphur dioxide, the treatment is the same as that for nitrogen dioxide; thinning of the blood by bleeding, the injection of fresh blood and salt solution and the inhalation of oxygen.

It is important to know that practically all of the household refrigerators now sold have either sulphur dioxide or ammonia as the refrigerant gas. Those using methyl chloride are arranging as rapidly as possible to mix sulphur dioxide with the methyl chloride or to find some other odorless, irritating substance which will safeguard the situation.

It is likely, however, that sooner or later methyl chloride will be replaced as a household refrigerant.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 9.—A week-end fishing party had a tragic ending here yesterday with the drowning of three persons when a motorboat capsized in the Colorado River. F. J. Bryant, twenty-four, his wife, Gladys Bryant, twenty-two, and their son, Freddie Bryant Jr., three, all of Austin, lost their lives. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bryant, also in the boat, were rescued.

Gratifying Progress in Tree Planting

The 1928 reports of inspectors of the tree plantations made on prairie farms with trees furnished by the Forest Service of the Department of the Interior from their nurseries at Indian Head and Sutherland, Saskatchewan, show that 83 per cent of the plantations inspected were found to be in very good condition, 14 per cent were fair, and only 3 per cent in poor condition.

Department Changes

The new sections on the second, third and fourth floors are now occupied by various departments as follows:

The hardware and crockery departments are located on the third floor.

The new sewing machine department also occupies a place on this floor.

The new section on the second floor is occupied by the artneedle-work department, blouses and sweaters.

The ready-to-wear department has been enlarged and now occupies a part of the new second floor section.

Announcements will be made of further changes as they are effected.

The Newest Shoes Are Lizard Trimmed

The wonderfully patterned and richly enamelled skin of the lizard has been observed at last by Dame Fashion and the reptile so often spurned by woman's foot is now honored on her shoe.

Frankly, though even if you "don't like snakes"—and the lizard is not a snake—you must admit that reptiles can give an artist points in design. Now try to visualize these shoes.

Three-eyelet Tie Pumps in brown kid and genuine lizard vamps; also a one-strap model in blue and brown kid with genuine lizard vamps. Fittings AA to C; sizes 4 to 8. Price, per pair $13.00

When Buying Was One Long Experiment

"I'll try a pound of this," said your grandmother, "if you are sure it's fresh."

That was some time in the second hour of her morning search for groceries. She went through an unappetizing row of crackers, teas, cereals, dried fruits, lard and sugar—all in bulk. She shooed the flies away, looked at, touched and tasted each article suspiciously, and finally decided to buy or not to buy, as her judgment directed. She couldn't trust a servant to do it. It was a day's work in itself.

To-day, in two minutes, you give the grocer your order. You know that everything you get will be fresh, pure, attractively and cleanly packed. Why? Because you ask for advertised brands.

Advertising has taken hours of hard labor out of every housewife's day, and lines of worry off her forehead. It has made the morning's marketing a matter of certainty instead of guesswork.

Do ALL of your buying this easier way—read the advertisements!

Interest Revived
In Angkor Ruins
Of Indo-China

Interest in the Angkor ruins of Indo-China is being revived by the French authorities, according to J. W. Mayhew, Standard Oil official in the Orient, who reached here to-day aboard the liner President Cleveland from Saigon.

There are two groups of these ancient ruins. One group is known as the "Angkor Wat" or Temple, the other being the "Angkor Thom" or city.

The location of the ruins is about three hundred miles from Saigon and they are reached by a splendid road maintained by the French in Indo-China.

The ruins now attract large numbers of tourists, states Mr. Mayhew. He plans to return to the Orient before the end of the year and will in future be stationed at Hongkong.

To commence their winter activities, the Y.F.S. of the Esquimaux United Church held a very enjoyable beach party on Friday night at Saxe Point. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Warr, the Misses Flora Thompson, Mona Morgan, Kay Wallace, Elaine Deaville, Marjorie Roode, Doris Tink and Messrs. Filmer Morgan, Jim Moscop, Bert Hughes, B.H. Deaville, Gordon Corbin, Frank Morgan, "Nip" Nunn, Buster Evans and B. Thompson.

A telegram received this morning by John Cochrane, chairman of the speakers' committee of the Canadian Club, from the President, Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway, states that Mr. Beatty's present commitments for engagements while here are so numerous and pressing that he cannot find it possible to accept the hospitality of the club on this occasion and expresses the hope that he may be able to do so in the near future when his time will not be so fully occupied.

An invitation from the Vancouver Business and Professional Women's Club to attend its annual banquet and entertainment on September 28 and 29 was read at the luncheon meeting of the Kuntuku Club held in Spencer's restaurant to-day. Those members able to accept the invitation were asked to notify Miss Unwin at the earliest possible moment. The newly-formed Glee Club will practice at Miss Russell's on Tuesday evening, and the swimming group will meet on Wednesday evening at the Crystal Garden. Members of the club regaled the gathering with one-minute talks on their vocations, and Mrs. Chas. McNeill delighted the company with two solos, sung with much charm.

A very successful concert was held in St. David's Hall, 1414 Douglas Street, under the auspices of the Victoria Cymnastic Society. Robert Thomas, president, presided. The following programme was rendered: Vocal duet, Misses Lillian and Edith Williams; vocal solos by Mrs. W. D. Morgan, Melvyn Humphries and M. CENTRAL SCHOOL
OLD BOYS RALLYStudents of School Erected
Here in 1875 to Meet To-morrow

Under the leadership of Principal Ernest R. Butlerworth of the Boys' Central School, a meeting has been called at the offices of the City School Board for 8 o'clock to-morrow night, at which it is proposed to make plans for the organization of an association of all those who attended the school. As the Boys' Central School drew students from all parts of the city and was built over half a century ago, its roster contains the names of many who rose to prominent positions in the public and commercial life of the city.

The buildings were erected in 1875 on land donated by the Hudson's Bay Company and comprise the oldest single group of school buildings inside the city limits.

The association, it is planned, will revive the historic associations of the school and recall achievements of its membership down through the years.

BARN, PIGS AND GRAIN BURNED AT
RITHET'S FARMTenants Lose Valuable Wheat
Harvest and Livestock; Only
Barn Insured

Fire originating in a straw-stack this morning destroyed one of the large barns at the Rithet Farm at Royal Oak, and also consumed 3,500 bushels of re-washed wheat and seven pigs penned within the barn.

Threshing had been in progress for some days. When the machinery had been in operation a few minutes this morning a flickering blaze was seen twenty feet from the ground, under the blower spout of the threshing. Six men jumped for the danger point, but the blaze spread with amazing rapidity and drafts carried the outbreak to two adjacent strawstacks in addition to setting fire to the barn.

The threshing crew was successful in stopping the machinery after desperate efforts and taking great risks, but the municipal fire apparatus was unable to do more than prevent the fire from igniting the other large buildings of the farm.

The building was insured by the owners, but the grain loss of the tenants was not under protection.

LARGE STUDENT
PARTY ARRIVESParty of 125 From Tsing
Hua College to Attend U.S.
UniversitiesNationalist Government Encouraging Idea to Promote Clearer Understanding

Education of Chinese students in the colleges and universities of Canada and the United States is being encouraged by the Nationalist Government with the object of bringing about a clearer understanding between the peoples of the Orient and Occident, said Chester Tsung Su, leader of a party of 125 students from the Tsing Hua College of Peking who reached here by the liner President Cleveland to-day en route to the United States.

The student party by the Cleveland is the last from the Tsing Hua College. Mr. Su said, as that institution has been raised to the status of a university and the majority of them are to study at Harvard, Illinois and Michigan Universities. The courses to be taken will be chiefly political science and business.

Forty-four of the party are from the Tsing Hua College, and quite a number are independent students, paying their own way. They will remain at school on this continent from three to five years.

LEADER IS DRAMATIST

Mr. Su is president of the dramatic club of the Tsing Hua College and is responsible for the presentation of both Chinese and European plays in the college theatre.

The students held an organization meeting on board the liner Cleveland and elected Mr. Su as general chairman of the entire student party, and Capt. George W. Yardley, ship's commander, as honorary chairman. Mr. S. Chong was made vice-president and Miss L. M. Hwang secretary. There are twelve student girls in the party.

Mr. Su stated that the purpose of the study international politics and journalism, with the ultimate intention of editing a newspaper in his own country.

China, said Mr. Su, is gradually becoming westernized under Chiang Kai Shek, chairman of the executive committee of the Nationalist Government, which is tantamount to the office of President, and the members of his administration.

The Nationalist Government, he said, is directing its efforts to the improvement of transportation in China, and much in this direction had been achieved under Sun Pu, Minister of Railways and of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, founder of the Chinese Republic.

SINGAPORE NOT WORRYING OVER
LABOR THREATToo Much Money Spent to Permit Cancellation of Contract, View in East

Singapore is not worrying about the threatened stoppage of work by the British Labor Government on the great naval and aviation base there according to Harold V. Whelan, general manager for the Dodge and Seymour Limited interests in the Straits Settlements, Siam and the Dutch East Indies, who arrived here to-day from the Orient aboard the liner President Cleveland.

The consensus of opinion at Singapore, he said, was that the McDonald Government would think twice before abandoning the naval station as too much money has already been expended there.

Much of the expenditure on the project already undertaken had been contributed by New Zealand and Malaya, and the feeling in the East was that the contributing Dominions would have to be consulted before any action was taken leading to cancellation of such an important naval development designed for the protection of British interests in Asia and Australia.

RUBBER INDUSTRY

Speaking of the rubber situation in the Far East, Mr. Whelan said conditions were greatly improved in the Straits Settlements since the removal last November of restrictions on production.

The Sultan of Johore, who reigns over the little eastern state which is divided from the island of Singapore by the British naval base, is again in England on one of his frequent trips to Europe, says Mr. Whelan. The Sultan of Johore is one of the greatest travelers among the Eastern potentates.

The firm of Dodge and Seymour Limited, for which Mr. Whelan is the Far Eastern manager, are distributors for the Hudson-East corporation, the Palmolive company and other large manufacturing interests.

The company's head offices in Mr. Whelan's territory are in Singapore, other offices being located at Batavia, Java and Bangkok, Siam.

Mr. Whelan, who is on leave with his family, is first visiting his home at Wallace, Idaho, and will later go on to New York to meet his principals. He plans to return to the Straits Settlements in three months.

MEMORIAL ROLL
IS CHURCH PLANGarrison Catholic Church
Shrine Opened By Father
Wood

On Sunday morning the feast of the Nativity of Our Lady, at the Garrison Catholic Church, Esquimalt, Father Wood opened and blessed a shrine of Our Lady, Queen of Peace, on which he placed a memorial roll containing the first names to be received of those who sacrificed their lives for Canada.

He explained that his reason for doing this was because friends had already begun to send in names and he wished to provide a temporary resting-place for these until a more worthy permanent structure was possible.

From now on mass will be said every Saturday morning at 8 o'clock in honor of Our Lady, Queen of Peace, on behalf of those whose names have been placed on the roll. Father Wood is confident that relatives and friends of soldiers, sailors, airmen, nurses and all whose lives were sacrificed for their country either during the war period or on account of disabilities contracted during active service will co-operate by sending in their names to be placed on the roll so that they may share in the benefits of the weekly mass.

This devotion is designed as a powerful factor before God in the cause of peace; His Excellency Viscount Willington, Governor-General of Canada, in an autograph letter to Father Wood, expressed the hope that when he next returns to the Pacific Coast, he will find that the effort has been crowned with success. Father Wood's address is 1343 Esquimalt Road. Names to be placed on the memorial roll should be accompanied by an offering towards the building of a permanent shrine.

Fire-fighters
Encamped At Port Alberni

Vancouver, Sept. 9.—Two hundred acres on a former logging operation of Alberni Pacific Lumber Company near Port Alberni, have been swept by fire, which is being fought by forest branch crew. A camp for fire-fighting forces has been established on Dog Creek. The outbreak is in old slash.

Two scrub fires at Sooke combined to cover an area of 200 acres.

The fire on the logging operations of the Manalmo Lumber Company, about six miles from Nanaimo, has been brought under control and the crew of firefighters is being reduced.

A large fire on a plateau of the headwaters of Koksilah River, which drains into Cowichan Lake, has been reported. Provincial foresters are preparing to leave for the scene. It is a five-day trip by pack horse from Cowichan Lake.

Brent frowned at her incredulous nastened. And suddenly Helen remembered the woman she had seen with him the previous Saturday.
"Oh," she exclaimed. "I won't let you go!"
Instantly, and with a darkening countenance, Brent came to halt on the dance floor. "Helen," he said with seriousness that shocked her.
There is one thing you must never do."
Helen swayed a little, steadying herself against the impact of dancing people. She was too dismayed to reply. What had she feared?

They were accepted and another experiment was made. Brent would not have bothered but this woman had been useful to him in the past. Soon he expected not to need her but it could be unwise, he reflected, to let her know that too abruptly.

At seven that night he started to go upstairs to dine with her. On the curb before his hotel he raised his arm to signal a taxi; then changed his mind. The balminess of the weather tempted him to walk to the club far but his direction lay cross-street, bringing him to less-fashionable apartments than the one he had left.

"That's the idea!" chuckled the Bob. "Come to school with me."

So the two Bad Children and the yellow Stump School early in the morning to ring the bell and make all the children of the village come to their homes. And then they could tell that what would happen?

But, luckily, Uncle Wigwag himself was not there that morning. The old rabbit gentleman who was the first day after vacation, he would help the Lady Mouse Teacher.

Hopping fast through the woods, Uncle Wigwag reached the Yellow Stump School ahead of the Bad Children. They were not yet arrived, but he had unlocked the door a night before so Mr. Longears had trouble getting in.

"Come in, come in, in order," said Uncle Wigwag, looking around the school rooms. "I painted the blackboards with berry juice so they are not so black."

YOUNG MAN, do you know that the best insurance you can take out against death, poverty and insanity is to get married? You don't believe it? Then listen to the recent report of the American Statistical Society. It says: "The death rate for single and widowed men is twice that for married men. Most of the male inmates of the insane asylums and almshouses are unmarried men."

That rather upsets your theories concerning the benefits and perquisites appertaining to and concerning single blessedness, doesn't it? Of course, you have always realized that life must seem longer to a married man than it does to a bachelor, but it is a little startling to find out that it actually is longer.

However, there is no reason for our surprise in the matter. It is perfectly logical. The very monotony and lack of excitement of the domestic life are its chief assets from a hygienic point of view, and if it draws out a man's days and evenings and makes them seem interminably tedious, it also multiplies them. Obviously, the candle that is snuffed out at 10 p.m. lasts longer than the one that is burned at both ends.

So, while punching the home time-clock may have fewer thrills in it than sitting up all night in a poker game or going on wild parties, it does more to put a man in the Methuselah class. You may have no particular relish for roast beef and spinach, but it is a more wholesome diet than caviar and hooch.

Furthermore, so adroitly are our blessings often camouflaged, the one thing that men most object to in their wives is in reality their first aid to longevity. That is nagging. Probably the time when the average husband oftenest asks himself: "Why was I ever fool enough to marry?" is when his wife badgers him about taking care of himself.

It is when his Maris follows him to the door with her incessant adjuration repeated for the millionth time, not to get his feet wet, not to sit in a draught, not to eat fried oysters and pie a la mode for lunch, not to forget to go to see the doctor about his cough or the dentist about his teeth that the poor, bespeckled husband regrets most bitterly the bachelor liberties that he has forfeited.

But, little as he realizes it as he gulps down the food his Maris considers good for his digestion instead of dining on the dishes he likes and lets her drive him into a doctor's office, she is a guardian angel who is saving him from the grave. For among the by-products of the liberty of the unmarried man is the liberty of dying early, because there was no loving feminine eye to watch every shade of pallor and weariness on his face, to note the flagging appetite and dragging step and to take alarm at every pain and symptom of illness and to see that something was done about it.

Nor is it strange to learn that married men are more prosperous than bachelors. The thing that keeps more men from marrying than anything else is fear of the price. They figure up the cost of a wife and children—food bills and clothes bills and rent bills and school bills—and it seems to them that if they will cut out all those bankrupting expenses and spend no money except upon themselves, they are bound to be millionaires in a few years.

But something seems to go awry with their calculations, for, in every community, you will find a hundred rich married men to one rich bachelor. Indeed, most men who have made fortunes will tell you that they never saved anything until after they got married or really got down to the business of moneymaking. It was only after they got married that they put their hearts and their backs into their jobs and that is why most employers prefer married men to single ones.

As long as a man has no one but himself to think of he feels free to throw his money about as he pleases and to loaf and invite his soul whenever he is inclined. He can always make what he needs and he sees no necessity of sticking to a hard job or doing unengaging work, and so he often becomes a wanderer and lets youth and even middle age pass by without settling down to any definite occupation.

But with the married man it is a different story. He has given hostages to fortune. A wife and children look to him for support and he is driven forward by the most relentless force in the world—the need of those who love him and whom he loves better than ease or rest. It is the thought of his little children crying for bread, of their little bare feet on the pavement, or their having no roof to shelter them that gives many a man the strength and energy to fight his way through incredible difficulties to success.

It is because the married man has to make money that turns many a one of them into a go-getter who would be a ne'er-do-well if he was a bachelor. To meet the demands of his family, to give wife the pearls she craves and to give the children the sport cars they can't live without, the man has to hustle around so much that it incidentally lands him on Easy Street, and this incentive to make the most of his ability the bachelor lacks.

At first blush it might seem that if anything could drive a man crazy it would be the trials and tribulations of matrimony and that the bachelor's life should be one of tranquillity with little to worry him. But evidently this is not the case since statistics show that there are more insane unmarried men than married men.

Perhaps the poor bachelors go cuckoo trying to sidestep matrimony and avoid the traps made by designing women who are bent on luring them into marriage. Perhaps having no one to think about but themselves they grow nutty brooding over trifles that affect themselves. Perhaps if they had been all right in the beginning they would not be bachelors.

Perhaps to keep him normal a man needs a wife that he can blame for everything that goes wrong and with whom he can quarrel and on whom he can work off his nerves and his temper. Perhaps men who are married are more generally happy than unmarried men, and happy, contented people don't go batty.

Anyway, the report of the American Statistical Society that married men live longer, stay out of debt and keep out of the insane asylums is a great selling argument for matrimony.

Hermit Taught Boys How to Shoot With Bow and Arrow

Maurice Thompson and his brother were hunting with their bows and arrows. They wandered far into the woods that bordered their father's plantation in Georgia. They had made the bows and arrows themselves and loved nothing better than to shoot with them.

As they went through the forest, they came to a little clearing in which stood a small hut. They knew that in this hut lived a user old man, a hermit, who never spoke to any one. The boys were afraid of him.

The hermit was standing in front of the cabin, and when he saw the boys, he called out, to their surprise, "Let me see you shoot."

Bashfully, Maurice put an arrow and shot up into a tree.

"That's not the way," said the hermit, shaking his head. "Let me show you." He took the bow and arrow and shot with it. Maurice gave a low whistle of excitement when he saw how far and straight the arrow went.

Then the hermit showed him how to hold his bow correctly. After that, the boys went many times to the hut in the woods to take lessons in shooting, and soon they became experts, shooting as well as Indians.

Maurice Thompson, born September 9, 1844, became a writer, most famous

To-morrow's Horoscope

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1929

Benefic aspects dominate strongly to-day, according to astrology. The early hours are more fortunate than those that follow the setting sun.

Under this sway women should benefit greatly; for it is helpful to artists of every sort as well as to homemakers.

Romance should be apparent in association of men and women while this rule prevails. It is a time when summer flirtations should be analyzed for whatever elements of seriousness they conceal. This should be a lucky day, making for financial gain as well as lasting love. This is held to be a favorable day for persons of the theatre and is lucky for those who sign contracts. The stars promise for motion pictures tremendous progress and success, for inventions of marvelous character again are foretold.

While this planetary government is favorable to men who produce merchandise it is not fortunate for those who trade in it. Manufacturers should benefit greatly at this time, although many extraordinary conditions will arise as the late autumn passes into winter, the stars prophesy. The way is most favorable for public buildings and for the physical improvement of American cities.

True artistry is to become prevalent in architecture and to dominate in the re-planning of municipal enterprises, astrologers predict. Again the rise of a supreme artist of the stage and films is prophesied. An era of beautiful dramatic productions is promised. Psychic research that reveals many hidden wonders is definitely prophesied and radio is to aid in solving problems man has hesitated to study, it is pronounced.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the assurance of a year of great prosperity. Success in professions of the arts is presaged. Children born on this day have talents usually that lead to extraordinary life experiences. They should be always lucky. Mungo Park, early explorer, was born on this day, 1771.
